pjur AQUA: Aqua (Water), Glycerin, Ethoxydiglycol, Phenoxyethanol, Hydroxypropyl Guar Hydroxypropyltrimonium Chloride, Hydroxyethylcellulose, Citric Acid.

Application:

To support moisture levels during sexual intercourse, apply the desired amount to the appropriate part of your intimate area. pjur personal lubricants are suitable for daily use and for use with latex condoms. Simply apply to the exterior of the condom once it is on.

When using silicone-based personal lubricants, always start with a small quantity – a little goes a long way. pjur silicone-based personal lubricants remain on the surface of the skin and are not absorbed. If you want to wash off the product, you can do this using mild soap and water.

Our water-based personal lubricants are almost entirely absorbed by the top layer of skin. If you apply too much, simply wash it off with lukewarm water.
