

CRAVE

ID CUFFS

The ID Cuffs are made of silicone and stainless steel. As with all silicone products, please keep your Cuffs away from other silicone-based products as they can affect their material integrity. We hope you will enjoy this product for years to come.

WARNING

The Cuffs are not intended for heavy-duty restraint or to support one's whole body weight, as injury may occur.

To avoid injury, exercise caution while wearing the Cuffs – as like all worn loose articles – they can get caught as external objects. Do not wear while operating machinery.

Keep out of reach of children.

CAUTION

Please play safely and with consent. If you use the Cuffs with a partner(s), please share these warnings with them.

If you experience discomfort from either a restriction of circulation or skin irritation, stop using this product immediately.
